

Antonio de Agostini, Research & Development

External advisor for Research & Development (Antonio De Agostini GmbH).

Experienced R&D professional with long term experience and high qualification in developing successful solutions in various technology fields (e.g. physical science, analytical instruments, electrochemical processes, electroplating, photovoltaics, IoT in utilities management).

More than 27 years' experience in global R&D leadership positions in various industries and international companies, such as Mettler Toledo AG, Meyer Burger Technology AG, Georg Fischer AG.

Education:

Holds a PhD in Electrochemistry of the University in Berne and a certificate in Business Management from the University of St. Gallen.